

Administrative Guideline No. 10

Subject: ADULT SERVICES

Adopted by the Board October 14, 1992

Revised March 18, 1998, February 12, 2003, September 8, 2004, March 24, 2005, February 21, 2007, August 13, 2008, April 14, 2009, December 9, 2009, September 21, 2011, May 8, 2013, April 9, 2014, March 18, 2015, April 13, 2017, March 18, 2020, December 9, 2020, Revised February 9, 2022

The Adult Services collection has a variety of materials in a range of formats, which are selected for adults beyond high school age in order to meet their educational, recreational, and informational needs. Diversity in the community creates a demand for books depicting a variety of cultures and lifestyles. Selectors should be mindful of diversity by including representation across race, religion, culture, ability, age, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, and viewpoint within all formats, subjects and genres. Collections should be representative of the local community, but also be representative of global diversity.

At no time will library staff act in loco parentis. The responsibility of use and viewing of library materials by children rests solely with their parents or legal guardians. Selection of library materials will not be inhibited by the possibility that children may view or come into possession of them.

As statistics become available, all materials will be considered for withdrawal after several years of low circulation unless the information remains current and relevant. All materials will be weeded for poor condition on an ongoing basis.

REFERENCE

The reference collections are developed to reflect the respective needs at the Main Library and Westacres Branch. Many electronic resources are available that complement or replace the print collection.

Special consideration: Efforts have been made to transition to the online version of reference resources whenever possible or appropriate.

Business reference materials are interfiled in the regular print reference collection at the Main Library. They include a collection of print format and electronic resources serving business professionals, small business owners, individual investors, students and general adult researchers. The collection includes Value Line Investment Survey, investment services and mutual fund newsletters. Business electronic sources include Reference Solutions, Value Line and Morningstar.

Special consideration: Business reference materials are kept in current version only. Superseded editions are discarded or per vendor's instructions, returned.

PERIODICALS

The periodical collection consists of magazines, newsletters, and newspapers. Popular magazines covering a variety of subject areas and native languages reflected in our community represent the largest share of the periodicals. Newspapers are selected which provide current information and satisfy casual interest in current events. Full text access to periodicals is also provided by periodical and newspaper indexes in electronic format, as well as digital editions of many selected titles. Patron interests and requests are weighed heavily in the selection of subjects and titles of periodical materials. Business and investment newsletters are a popular part of the reference collection at the Main Library. Recreational and family oriented materials are in demand at the Branch.

Special considerations: Main Library holds magazines for 2 years. The Branch holds the current year only.

FICTION

AT BOTH LOCATIONS, the fiction collection should present stories of ethnic, cultural, economic and geographic diversity, providing both a mirror that reflects a reader's experience, as well as a window that allows readers to learn about different experiences and points of view.

MAIN LIBRARY: best sellers, genre fiction, and classical literature from all time periods and from all parts of the world make up the fiction collection. Its purpose is to entertain and enrich human understanding by presenting stories in an imaginative way rather than in a factual manner. Students make use of the fiction collection for reading assignments. Retain anything with lasting influence or part of school curriculum. Retain classics in multiple copies indefinitely, weeding and replacing for poor condition. Retain at least 1 copy of each title by important and very popular authors, weeding and replacing for poor condition. Many adult book discussion groups throughout the community also create a demand for critically acclaimed writers, classic and international authors. Titles with media tie-ins to films are to be tracked regularly and purchased in quantity. Overall, the focus in the fiction collection is on purchasing as broadly and as widely as possible to give the collection depth while having enough multiple copies of high demand books to satisfy patron requests as quickly as possible. Weeding is done with emphasis on condition and circulation use.

BRANCH: current and popular fiction titles and authors are the major focus of this collection. Little emphasis is placed on maintaining past bestsellers, dated genres or authors, complete sets of series and classic works of literature not required for school assignments. Weeding is done more frequently than at the Main Library with an emphasis on current and popular titles.

New releases and bestsellers are purchased or leased in large quantities to meet patron expectations of the library as a reliable source of current reading topics and trends. Rental collections are also maintained to make available as many high demand popular titles as possible.

Special consideration: Both facilities purchase multiple copies of titles selected for the Library or Friends' sponsored book discussions, as well as other programs related to specific titles or authors.

MYSTERIES

The mystery section includes the works of detective and mystery writers. Espionage writers whose works have an emphasis on mystery rather than adventure are included in mystery rather than fiction. Every attempt is made to retain copies of all titles in a series. Romantic suspense authors are included in fiction. Titles from this area are labeled "mystery" and are shelved together as an aid to patron browsing in both buildings. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

SCIENCE FICTION

The science fiction section includes science fiction and fantasy writers from all parts of the world and from classic to contemporary authors. The science fiction collection covers such genre types as high and low fantasy, gothic fantasy, science fantasy, sword and sorcery novels, alien being, alternate worlds, robot, space travel and time travel novels. Futuristic novels and speculative fiction are usually included in the general Fiction area. Paperbacks of new and reissued authors are an important part of the collection. All science fiction titles are labeled as such and shelved together to facilitate patron browsing at both buildings. At the Main Library, a sub-collection of Science Fiction series titles (such as Star Wars and Star Trek) are labeled as such and shelved together adjacent to the Science Fiction collection to facilitate patron browsing. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

ROMANCE

The romance collection is comprised of titles that have a central love story and an optimistic ending. Only single-title romances, not once-a-month categories, are selected. An emphasis is placed on purchasing paperback format when available. Sub-genres include contemporary, historical, time-travel, para-normal and suspense. At the Branch, titles from this area are labeled “romance” and are shelved together as an aid to patron browsing. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

SHORT STORIES

The Short Story collection at the Main Library includes short fiction anthologies from all time periods and from various parts of the world, and serves adult and student recreational readers. This collection includes fantasy, romance, horror, crime, adventure, westerns and alternative topics. Short Story collections by one author are shelved with that author’s fiction works in the general Fiction area. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

Special Consideration: Short story anthologies are interfiled in the general Fiction section at both the Main Library and the Branch.

INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE

The international language collection at the Main Library reflects the language preferences and reading interest of its users. Titles in Chinese, Russian, Japanese, German, Gujarati, Hindi, Hebrew, Spanish, French, Tamil, Arabic and Persian are available. Specific titles may also be requested as needed via interloan. Additional languages-may be added as they become available through reputable United States vendors, and as community needs dictate. Weeding is done with emphasis on condition and circulation use.

Special consideration: international language materials are not collected at the Branch, but available to its patrons by daily delivery or interlibrary loan.

LANGUAGE LEARNING COLLECTION

The Language Learning collection at the Main Library includes timely and topical materials for adult readers at the new adult reader level, as well as for adult readers who are learning English and other languages as an international language. ELL study units, TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) and TOEIC (Test of English for International Communication) study guides, tutoring guidebooks and other instructional topics are provided for patrons. Related compact disc (CD) and DVD format resources are also available in the Language Learning collection. Weeding is done with emphasis on condition and circulation use.

Special consideration: Language Learning materials are interfiled in the general non-fiction section at the Branch.

LARGE PRINT BOOKS

Multiple copies of popular, bestselling fiction, especially mysteries, suspense, thrillers, romance, biographies, and recent non-fiction in large size type make up this collection. Both Branches maintain a collection with the Main Library purchasing several copies of popular and bestselling authors. At the Branch little emphasis is placed on maintaining past bestsellers, dated genres or authors and typically no more than one copy of a popular or bestselling title is purchased. The collection at the Main Library also provides titles for outreach services to area senior housing and nursing homes. Weeding is done with emphasis on condition and circulation use.

CAREER CENTER

The Career Center at the Main Library includes multiple copies of books on resume writing, job-searching and interviewing skills. This collection also includes a wide selection of books on careers and jobs in both general and specific categories on a variety of educational levels. ### CAREGIVER COLLECTION

The Caregiver Collection at the Main Library includes multiple copies of books and DVDs on senior issues and elder care. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

TRAVEL COLLECTION

The Travel Collection includes multiple copies of travel guides and travelogue DVDs covering destinations throughout the world. This collection also includes travel phrasebooks and non-fiction narratives on travel-related subjects. Weeding at the Main Library is done with an emphasis on condition, currency and circulation use, while at the Branch the focus is on retaining current and popular titles.

DVDs

Digital video discs (DVDs) in U.S. compatible format are available at both facilities to serve the recreational and educational interests of patrons. Popular feature films, premium cable and network television productions, international films, documentaries and non-feature quality productions on a variety of subjects make up the collection.

New releases with high box-office returns will be ordered in quantity for the Main Library with fewer copies for Westacres. Sufficient copies must be ordered to meet the initial high demand for films that did well at the box office or received critical acclaim and for popular television shows with a large following. Extra copies as appropriate will be purchased for both facilities of film discussion titles and holiday films. Single copies of notable or requested older films are purchased for the Main Library collection only; older releases are generally not purchased for the Westacres collection unless they are award-winning titles with prevailing current interest. Special consideration is given to notable and older films representing stories of ethnic, cultural, economic and geographic diversity.

When available, close-captioned productions for the hearing impaired are purchased. Due to the proliferation of vintage and recent television shows in multi-segment DVD format and the shelf space required for ongoing storage, consideration will be based upon demand, critical acclaim and prevailing interest. Weeding is done with an emphasis on condition, interest and use; multiple copies should be weeded when the popularity of a release declines. A minimum of one copy should be retained for the Main Library collection with additional copies retained based on ongoing popularity of the film. Due to space limitations, no more than two copies of popular releases should be retained for the Westacres collection after the initial interest has diminished.

Special consideration: Current popular feature entertainment DVDs are in high demand at both facilities. Film classics, international language films and special interest features are more popular at the Main Library and most often purchased for that collection. In addition there are DVD deposit collections at senior apartment facilities located in West Bloomfield.

WORLD CINEMA

A collection of DVDs in multiple international languages is available at the Main Library in the World Cinema collection. All World Cinema films are English subtitled and include award-winning films and films that are popular in the originating country.

Special consideration: Most World Cinema titles are not collected at the Branch, but are available to its patrons by daily delivery.

BOOKS ON CD

The adult books on CD collection includes contemporary and classic fiction, mysteries, science fiction, suspense, biographies, plus a wide range of non-fiction topics and instructional materials. This collection is broadly representative of the variety and high technical quality of material available in this format. Patron demand strongly influences the selection of items. Weeding is done with an emphasis on condition, interest and use.

VIDEO GAMES

Video games for the most popular gaming platforms are considered for purchase. As new gaming platforms become available, the library will determine if additional platforms may be added to the collection. Emphasis is placed on critically acclaimed games with a significant single player storyline, rather than games that focus on multiplayer interactions with little story. Effort will be made to purchase games that also feature educational, problem solving, and informational themes. Special consideration is given to notable or award-winning games representing stories of ethnic, cultural, economic and geographic diversity. This collection is directed towards patrons ages 18 and up. Ratings purchased will be T (Teen) and M (Mature). Games in this collection are housed in the adult department. Weeding is done with an emphasis on condition, interest, platform popularity, and use.

eBOOKS

The eBook collection consists of a Metro Net shared collection of titles as well as a collection of titles only accessible by West Bloomfield cardholders. The core of the non-shared eBook collection contains titles that reflect the general reading interests of adults as well as some technical oriented non-fiction that is suitable for this format. Emphasis is placed on high-interest and high demand areas with specific attention to bestselling authors, popular new releases, reference, and high demand non-fiction such as biographies, computers, cooking, business, travel and employment. The fiction collection should be retrospectively built as older and classic titles are made available in eBook format, with consideration given to titles and authors representing diverse backgrounds. Adult librarians at both branches are responsible for selecting the theme and contents of activity kits. Weeding is done with an emphasis on condition, interest, and use.
